

Arabic Linguistics Forum 2016

|                                  |    |   |  |                   |  |   |
|----------------------------------|----|---|--|-------------------|--|---|
| Monday 12 th December | 12 | 1 | Reception desk open from 12noon ( Berrick Saul building ). |                   |  |   |
|                                  | 1  | 2 | lunch  |                   |  |   |
|                                  |    |   | start   | end        | Bowland Lecture Theatre B/S/005   | Seminar Room B/S/008   |
|                                  |    |   | 1.45   | 2                 | Opening words and welcome  | --  |
|                                  |    |   |  |                   | Morphology (Chair: Jamal Ouhalla)   | Code-switching (Chair: Jalal Al-Tamimi)  |
|                                  |    |   | 2  | 2.30              | Peter Glanville (University of Maryland): Ground Form Vowels and Participant Order   | Malgorzata Kniaż (Jagiellonian University in Krakow): English embedded verbs in Arabic-English code-switching in Egypt  |
|                                  |    |   | 2.30   | 3                 | Lior Laks (Bar-Ilan University): Plural formation of loanwords in Palestinian Arabic   | Gada Mahmud (Newcastle University): Bilingual Code Switching Patterns in Libyan Arabic-English School-Aged Children: A Study of Code Switching                    |
|                                  |    |   | 3  | 3.30              | Amin Almuhanha & Jean-François Prunet (Kuwait University): On the morphology of Kuwaiti surnames   | Majedah Alaiyed (Durham University): Arabic diglossia and code-switching/code-mixing in religious discourse in Najd with special reference to negations in Arabic |
|                                  |    |   | 3.30   | 4                 | coffee   |   |
|                                  |    |   |  |                   | Dialects &amp; lexis (Chair: Rana Almbark)  |   |
|                                  |    |   | 4  | 4.30              | Simone Bettiga (University of Torino): Genitive Exponents in Modern Omani Arabic   |   |
|                                  |    |   | 4.30   | 5                 | Christopher Lucas (SOAS, University of London): Language Analysis for the Determination of Origin and Arabic dialects  |   |
|                                  |    |   | 5  | 6                 | Invited talk (Chair: Chris Lucas)Jamal Ouhalla (University College Dublin)Verb Form II of Arabic: causativisation, pluractionality and semantically vacuous gemination |   |
|                                  |    | 6 | 7  | welcome reception |  |   |

|                                   |              |   |  |  |
|-----------------------------------|--------------|---|--|--|
| Tuesday 13 th December | start | end  | Bowland Lecture Theatre B/S/005   | Seminar Room B/S/008  |
|                                   |              |   | Syntax (Chair: Chris Lucas)   | Phonology (Chair: Sam Hellmuth)   |
|                                   | 9            | 9.30  | Shatha Alruwaili & Louisa Sadler (University of Essex): Neg Raising in Shamali Arabic  | --   |
|                                   | 9.30         | 10  | Maris Camilleri (University of Essex): Clausal possession across different Arabic varieties  | Islam Youssef (University College of Southeast Norway): Cairene Arabic Palatalization in Progress  |
|                                   | 10           | 10.30   | Louisa Sadler & Mohammad AlZaidi (University of Essex/Taif University): Gapping in Hijazi Arabic: an LFG Approach  | Shadiya al-Hashmi (University of York): Variable productivity of residual 'imala in Arabic loanwords into Turkish  |
|                                   | 10.30        | 11  | Maris Camilleri & Louisa Sadler (University of Essex): On the distribution of xejn in Maltese  | Ahmed Ech-charfi (Mohammed V University Rabat): A grammar with opposite productive rules: evidence from Arabic diglossia                                 |
|                                   | 11           | 11.30   | coffee   |  |
|                                   |              |   | Sociolinguistics (Chair: Uri Horesh)  | Reading and writing Arabic (Chair: Ghada Khattab)   |
|                                   | 11.30        | 12  | Moayyad Al Bohnayyah (University of Essex): The /a:/ variable of Al-Ahsa in Saudi Arabia: a sociolinguistic analysis of vowel rounding/unrounding  | Elinor Saiegh-Haddad & Rachel Schiff (Bar-Ilan University): The impact of diglossia on voweled and unvoweled word reading in Arabic                      |
|                                   | 12           | 12.30   | Mohammad Al-Rohili (University of Essex): Variation between [g] and [g'] in the Ḥarbi dialect of Medina  | Mariam Aboezez (The British Library): What Reading Errors can tell us about reading Egyptian Arabic in Arabic and Latin scripts                          |
|                                   | 12.30        | 1   | Tsvetomira Pashova (Sofia University St. Kliment Ohridsky): The Arabic Connectives - a Classification Proposal   | Lior Laks & Elinor Saiegh-Haddad (Bar-Ilan University): Morphological interference of Palestinian Arabic in the Standard Arabic writing                  |
|                                   | 1            | 2   | lunch  |  |
|                                   | 2            | 3.30  | Invited tutorial (Chair: Sam Hellmuth)Jalal Al-Tamimi (Newcastle University)Experimental issues surrounding data collection/analyses in Arabic and statistical designs |  |
|                                   | 3.30         | 4   | coffee   |  |
|                                   |              |   | Sociolinguistics (Chair: Clive Holes)   | L2 phonology (Chair: Rana Almbark)  |
|                                   | 4            | 4.30  | Areejj Al-Hawamdeh (University of Essex): velarisation of /l/ in Su:f, Jordan  | Sara Altubuly (Al-Maktoum College of Higher Education/University of Essex): The perception and production of Arabic consonants: a cross-linguistic study |
| 4.30                              | 5            | Munira Al-azraqi (University of Dammam): Patterns of sociolinguistic change in Abha Arabic: The use of conjunctions                           | Asmaa Shehata (University of Calgary): Native English speakers' perception and production of Arabic consonants   |  |
| 5                                 | 6            | Invited talk (Chair: Paul Kerswill)Enam AlWer (University of Essex)Trajectory of change and the power of social factors |  |  |
| 7                                 | 9.30         | conference dinner (served in the Treehouse B/S/104)   |  |  |

|                               |              |  |   |   |
|-------------------------------|--------------|--|---|---|
| Wed 14 th December | start | end   | Bowland Lecture Theatre B/S/005  | Seminar Room B/S/008   |
|                               |              |  | L1 acquisition (Chair: Islam Youssef)  | Syntax (Chair: Louisa Sadler)  |
|                               | 9.30         | 10   | Reem Khamis-Dakwar, Gubei Tarabeh & Ghada Khattab (Adelphi University/Sakhnin College/Newcastle University): On the nature of gender shift in Arabic Infant/Child Directed Speech (CDS)                     | Bashayer Alotaibi (Newcastle University): Multi-functional verbs gaam and gaʕad in Kuwait Arabic: between serialization and auxiliation                 |
|                               | 10           | 10.30  | Noura AlAjroush, Cristina McKean & Ghada Khattab (Newcastle University): Phonological Development, Processes and Patterns in Najdi Arabic   | Shaimaa ElSadek (University of Essex): Tense and Aspect in Egyptian Arabic: A corpus-based study  |
|                               | 10.30        | 11   | Ghada Khattab & Tamar Keren-Portnoy (Newcastle University/ University of York): How templatic is Arabic input to children? The role of child-directed-speech in the acquisition of Semitic morpho-phonology | Marwan Jarrah (Newcastle University): T <sup>0</sup> -Φ parameter and agreeing complementizers in Jordanian Arabic  |
|                               | 11           | 11.30  | coffee  |   |
|                               |              |  | Sociolinguistics (Chair: Enam Al Wer)  | Phonetics (Chair: Reem Khamis-Dakwar)  |
|                               | 11.30        | 12   | Mansour Alotaibi & Abdulfattah Omar & (Prince Sattam bin Abdulaziz University/Port Said University): Geographic location and linguistic diversity: the use of intensifiers in Egyptian and Saudi Arabic     | Rana Almbark & Sam Hellmuth (University of Huddersfield/ University of York): Variation in quantity & quality of Arabic vowels: a comparison of eight dialects        |
|                               | 12           | 12.30  | Saudi Sadiq (University of York): Language perception as a tool to validate language investigation: evidence from Egypt   | Amel Issa (University of Leeds): Articulatory cues for the singleton-geminate contrast in Libyan Arabic   |
|                               | 12.30        | 1  | Ourooba Shetewi (Newcastle University): The role of age and gender in linguistic choices  | Jalal Al-Tamimi (Newcastle University): Is pharyngealization associated with an epilaryngeal constriction? An acoustic investigation in Jordanian and Moroccan Arabic |
|                               | 1            | 2  | lunch [A 'business meeting' to discuss the future activities of the Arabic Linguistics Forum will be held in B/S/008; bring your lunch along]   |   |
|                               |              |  | Historical linguistics (Chair: James Dickins)  | Prosody (Chair: Janet Watson)  |
|                               | 2            | 2.30   | Luca D'Anna (University of Mississippi): On verbal negation in the Arabic dialects of the Fezzān  | Anna Bruggeman & Sam Hellmuth (University of Cologne/University of York): Intonational marking of contrastive focus in noun phrases in Moroccan Arabic                |
|                               | 2.30         | 3  | Mila Neishtadt (The Hebrew University of Jerusalem): Phonological doublets in Syro-Palestinian colloquial Arabic: a key to tracing Aramaic routes into Arabic   | Mervat Fashal (Alexandria University): The role of prosodies in understanding spoken Modern Standard Arabic discourse   |
|                               | 3            | 3.30   | Estefania Valenzuela Mochón (The University of Texas at Austin): The origin of the direct object marker /li-/ in Andalusī Arabic  | Dina El Zarka & Barbara Schuppler (University of Graz/Graz University of Technology): Prosody of themes in Egyptian Arabic  |
|                               | 3.30         | 4  | coffee  |   |
|                               |              |  | Semantics/pragmatics (Chair: Dina El Zarka)  | Dialect &amp; register (Chair: Uri Horesh)   |
| 4                             | 4.30         | Tareq Alfraidi (University of Exeter): Conditional sentences in Standard Arabic: an analysis of the relationship between the two clauses | Valentina Serreli (Université d'Aix-Marseille, CNRS/IEP/IREMAM): Metalinguistic labels and language ideologies: evidence from a folk linguistic study in peripheral Egypt                                   |   |
| 4.30                          | 5.30         | Invited talk (Chair: Sam Hellmuth)Clive Holes (University of Oxford)Some stylistic features of spoken Arabic       |   |   |